O.I.M.B. Open House

On May 11, some students from Mrs. Weinblatt's class went to the Open House at the Oregon Institute of Marine Biology to give a presentation about the Sixes River Estuary to all the people who came to the open house.

Only five students came, but people said we did a great job. There were three people that did the presentations about our projects. We all took turns talking and explaining things to people who came to our estuary display station.

One person took care of the animals, another person talked about the plants and someone took care of the history of the Sixes Estuary.

The animal person told interesting facts about animals in the estuary. The plant person spoke about the plant life in the Sixes River Estuary, and the history person told the people about the history of the Sixes River Estuary.

All the people who were giving a presentation had their own table. There were presentations about oysters, Gumboots, Sea Spiders and more.

In one exhibit, there was a big table of sea creatures. There were Sea Cucumbers, starfish, sea anemones, baby crabs, and limpets.

Many people liked our presentation and they told our teacher about it. All the kids who helped got extra-credit in science, which was a really awesome thing and everyone who helped had a blast! The kids who helped would like to go to another O.I.M.B. Open House!

Book Report Party!

Mrs. Weinblatt's class has been reading excessively so they can participate in a reading rewards party. Mrs. Weinblatt's reward party includes: lunch;

pizza at the Hard Rain Café, a movie at The Savoy Theatre in Port Orford, including a kids popcorn pack. Sponsored by the Business Owners during off hours and our great Booster Club, especially Christy Phillips and Diane Bussman. Every student who read four books and wrote 4 different styles of book reports, got to go on May 21st.
